

Difficult decisions

Can it be done? Should it be done?

Activity sheet – Should we?

You are going to identify some people who might be affected if some ideas were to be put into practice.

Once you have decided who might be affected, you need to consider the goals, rights and duties for each individual.

When you have completed the row for an idea, use the goals, rights and duties you have thought of, to decide 'Should it be done?' Part of the first row has been completed for you with some suggestions.

Suggestion	Who might this idea affect?	Goals	Rights	Duties	Should it be done?
Making a chemical that stops the police detecting alcohol on a driver's breath	Police officer A drunk driver after an accident Someone injured by a drunk driver	To enforce the law To avoid a drink-driving conviction To obtain compensation for injuries caused	Help from the public Fair treatment by the police Fair compensation for injuries	To gather evidence impartially To take responsibility for own actions To be honest about the circumstances of the accident
